Description

The Japanese Knife Maker Kansei Matsuno is a true master of his trade and his designs certainly show a unique style. From the beginning, we loved the skillful combination of Japanese style elements and features of a modern gentleman's pocketknife. The slender build and lightweight construction of the Boker Plus Wasabi complement the straightforward design and classic Japanese blade to make an elegant everyday knife. The blade with ball bearings opens with a front flipper and is kept open as a slipjoint with a detent ball. The blade is made of reliable 440C (57-58 HRC). Handle with stainless liners and milled clip. Scales of exclusive Cocobolo.

Kansei Matsuno

The Japanese Knife Maker Kansei Matsuno is a master of his craft, and his designs undoubtedly have their own style. He has been making Knives since 1992 and exhibited his designs for the first time at the Seki Outdoor Knife Show just one year later. The skillful combination of Japanese style elements with the features of modern Pocketknives convinced us right away. The mostly slim and lightweight constructions, together with the
