Description

An extraordinarily efficient portable multi-fuel stove (also called hobo stove or firebox) for cooking, heating and barbecue. Only 1 cm thick when folded. Can be easily unfolded even with gloves on. Perfect for longer outdoor trips, hikes, camping, trekking, canoeing, bushcraft, biking, expeditions etc. etc. Independent, versatile and easy to use. You can find the fuel everywhere in the nature - twigs, branches, leaves, even dry dung. Alternatively you can use many different other fuels like spirit burners (Trangia), Esbit, wood pellets, charcoal etc.

Weight: 800 g,

Size: 12,5 x 19 cm.

Made in Germany from 100% stainless steel (1 mm, 1.4301).

Delivered in a cotton bag.

The Bushbox XL extraordinarily efficient. With only a few small twigs you can boil half a liter of water in under 4 minutes, grill meat or cook your meals. The Bushbox XL comes with two trivets which can be used as support for different pot sizes, as a bracket for a Trangia burner or to handle the hot stove safely.

We offer optional expansions, like the Universal Grate (can be used as a grill or as a platform for wood pellets or a Trangia burner), a grill plate, additional trivets and (later) an outdoor bag.

Made in Germany from 100% stainless steel

NOTE: Please note it comes with a few scratches from production as Bushcraft Essentials does not polish their products as to avoid water pollution and health risks. Bushcraft Essentials stoves are designed and
