Winter hunting boots made of nubuck with Gore-Tex membrane, Vibram sole and Boa drawstrings.

Description

Chiruca Bulldog Boa hunting boots (Spain) - winter hunting boots made of nubuck with Gore-Tex membrane, Vibram sole and Boa drawstrings.

Medium high leather boots with a waterproof Gore-Tex membrane.

The Gore-Tex membrane provides excellent protection against water and has a high level of vapor release.

Natural nubuck leather does not cause allergies and has a good vapor release property, as it preserves the pore structure during processing.

Vibram sole with high abrasion resistance is made of natural rubber to provide high grip and excellent stability on uneven surfaces, and most importantly, it has excellent protection against heat loss. Its cushioning property will protect your joints from the stress of exercise.

Unique line system BOA with a strong fishing rope or steel line (depending on the model) instead of the usual lines - a great innovation that is irreplaceable for real lovers of fishing, hunting and active recreation. To put on the boot, you need to pull out the latch and put the boot on the leg, then by turning the latch clockwise, tighten the string and put the latch back in place. You will forget about problems like frozen laces, slow putting on and taking off shoes, numb and tired hands.

The midsole consists of two layers with different densities. This combination provides additional convenience. The moisture is carried to the lower porous layer of the insole, while the anti-bacterial treatment prevents the formation of unpleasant odors.

Additional reinforcements in the heel and ankle area increase the strength of the boot and provide additional stability (protection against ankle injury).

The height of the boot will meet the highest demands placed on hunting
