ISOLWOOL® - 50 % polypropylene + 50% wool

A perfect half-and-half combination of Merino wool Meraklon polypropylene. It enhances mechanical resistance of wool. The socks made of the material are admirable for resistance and at the same time, for exceptional heat comfort. Socks made of ISOLWOOL® are as much as five times more resistant than sock of 100% wool. Thermal protection is very high owing to the Meraklon polypropylene insulation capacity and the structural properties of wool. The combination is a guarantee of an ideal body temperature even under the severest climatic conditions.
