Description

The body of the pen is manufactured from stainless steel, with a brass nib and an optional steel clip. The pen contains a standard plastic ink cartridge which is 100% sealed into the body, even with applied force the pens end plug will not detach.

The metal pen originally is meant for food industry, so it contains no detachable parts and is fully metal detectable, making it ideal for hygiene critical food and pharmaceutical production areas where foreign body contamination is not an option. Also usable in other areas where reliable construction pen is needed.
