Description

Fallkniven C10 Ceramic Steel for Sharpening Kitchen Knives

Introducing the Fallkniven C10 ceramic steel, a superior sharpening tool designed for kitchen knives. With a length of 270 mm (410 mm including the handle), this ceramic steel offers professional-level performance for maintaining razor-sharp edges on your high-quality chef's knives.

The C10 has been meticulously tested to deliver outstanding sharpening results, ensuring your knives perform at their best. Its advanced ceramic surface achieves a hardness of 9 on the Mohs scale, surpassed only by diamonds at 10. This makes it ideal for high-performance sharpening, especially for professional-grade knives.

What sets the C10 apart is its anti-break and shock-absorbing design. Unlike traditional ceramic rods, this sharpener is built to withstand drops from kitchen tables, reducing the risk of damage. Whether you're a professional chef or a culinary enthusiast, the C10 ceramic steel is an excellent addition to your kitchen tools.

Features

- Extremely durable ceramic material with anti-break properties
- Ideal for sharpening high-quality chef's knives
- Hardness of 9 on the Mohs scale for exceptional sharpening
