Why Choose the Fallkniven NL5cx Idun?

Designed for hunters and outdoor enthusiasts, the NL5cx Idun stands out with its unique combination of cutting-edge materials and expert craftsmanship. The Cowry X Damascus steel blade ensures exceptional edge retention, while the handcrafted convex edge offers superior cutting performance. Its oxbide leather handle provides a secure grip and ages gracefully, making it not just a tool but an heirloom-quality piece.

Craftsmanship Beyond Compare

The convex edge, a hallmark of traditional knife-making, is a feature that can only be achieved by skilled hands. This dedication to detail sets the NL5cx Idun apart from mass-produced knives, delivering unparalleled strength, corrosion resistance, and edge durability. Each knife in the Northern Light Series reflects Fallkniven's commitment to excellence and is crafted for those who value top-tier quality and design.
