Fallkniven SK2L Embla Hunting Knife, Lam. CoS Steel

The Fallkniven SK2L Embla embodies the principles of Swedish minimalism, combining simple, neat, and functional design with exceptional craftsmanship. This elegant hunting knife is designed for those who demand performance and durability in the field.

Crafted with laminated cobalt steel (Lam. CoS), the Embla excels at maintaining an extraordinary edge, making it the perfect companion for processing game like moose or wild boar. The convex edge construction is both sharp and strong, a time-tested design that has served humans throughout history.

The handle is made from desert ironwood, an incredibly dense and durable material that is impervious to water. It can be maintained with furniture polish, gun stock oil, or other linseed oil-based treatments. When not in use, the knife rests securely in a black, low-hanging leather sheath.

Features

- Blade Material: Laminated cobalt steel (Lam. CoS) for exceptional edge retention and durability.
- Handle: Made from premium desert ironwood, providing a secure grip and natural beauty.
- Edge: Convex grind for superior cutting performance and strength.
- Tang: Protruding broad tang for enhanced stability and durability.
