Steel Information - Laminated VG7 (VGWolf)

The new VG7 steel features higher tungsten content for increased wear resistance and edge retention. Its laminated structure (420J2 - VG7 - 420J2) combines a hard, high-performance cutting core with tough, corrosion-resistant outer layers. This design maximizes strength and durability while

Why Laminated VG7?

VG7 (VGWolf) is an upgraded powder metallurgy stainless steel combining excellent edge retention, toughness, and corrosion resistance. The addition of tungsten (W) refines the grain structure and boosts cutting longevity. In Fällkniven's laminated configuration, it provides unmatched durability and stability during extreme outdoor use – from chopping wood to precision cutting.

About Fällkniven

Fällkniven AB is a family-owned Swedish knife manufacturer based in Norrbotten. Since 1987, the company has become a world leader in premium outdoor and survival knives, combining traditional Scandinavian design with cutting-edge materials. Fällkniven has been a Royal Purveyor to His Majesty the King of Sweden since 1999, a mark of excellence and craftsmanship recognized worldwide.

Glossary of Terms

- Convex edge: A curved edge geometry providing superior durability and cutting strength.
- Full tang: The blade extends through the entire handle, enhancing balance and strength.
- Kraton: A durable, rubber-like polymer offering excellent grip and shock absorption.
- Laminated steel: A composite structure of different steel layers for optimal toughness and edge stability.
