Description

Too many coins in the purse are annoying: they deform the purse. They also make sitting uncomfortable when your wallet is in your back pocket. You can avoid this problem with this high-quality coin pouch from the brand manufacturer Greenburry. You transport your small change separately from now on. You can put the coin pouch in your jacket pocket, in a handbag or in the car, for example. If you need coins for the cigarette machine, for the parking machine or for another purpose, you have them immediately at hand. In addition to the practical use of this bag, there is an attractive appearance. I like the simple concept of a pouch and a drawstring waistband. The natural cowhide with its unique surface structure gives the coin purse a particularly beautiful appearance.
