Description

In its updated version, the new Husky compels as a powerful outdoor and hunting knife, and is also characterized by the excellent handling of the pleasantly rounded handle. The small hand guard increases operational safety, while the distinctive hollow rivets create a very special touch. The nitrogen-alloyed Sandvik 14C28N as blade steel leaves nothing left to be desired, while the handle made from stabilized rosewood, black mircata, and a white intermediate layer represents a very special touch. Shipped with a brown leather sheath.

For 60 years, Muela from Spain has been one of the leading European producers of classical hunting knives. The family business, founded by Eladio Muela in 1952, is today run under the cooperation of all its 5 children. Since its beginnings in the first small workshop, Muela has developed into a high-tech manufacturer with an annual production of some 350,000 knives. Despite modern computer-assisted production, however, manual work is still being promoted today. Above all, the elaborate processing of Stag, a specialty of Muela, is not possible by machine. This requires the many years of experience of the experts, who prepare and assemble the knife handles and the handle by hand. All production steps are carried out at Muela, even the production of high-quality leather is done in-house.
