Description

Very robust folding grill made of stainless steel that can also be used as a fire basket. The grill has two insertion heights for the charcoal tray. In the lower slot, the charcoal tray is further away from the grill grate, which reduces the heat supply. The grill can thus also be used perfectly as a fire basket. If the tray is inserted at the top, the embers are close to the food and cook it through more quickly. The grill is quick and easy to assemble. Simply unfold and lock the side struts with the pins. The fold-out legs are fixed with a locking mechanism and guarantee a very stable stand. Now just place the grill grate in the struts of the handles and the grill is ready for use. Its open design ensures an optimal air supply and the grill grate offers sufficient surface area for the hotly desired grilled food. Due to its practical design, the barbecue contributes significantly to the barbecue pleasure, whether camping or at the festival. The nylon carrying bag is included in the scope of delivery.
