Description

The survival tent is specially made for trekking, bushcrafting and emergency situations. Whether hiking, camping or trekking, the tent protects against hypothermia and frostbite thanks to its inner reflective surface. The design of the tent defies the most extreme weather conditions such as wind, rain, storm or cold. Thanks to its length of well over two metres, people of all heights can fit inside. With the 6 m long paracord, the tent can be very well braced. With the integrated metal eyelets, the tent can be fixed to the ground with the pegs included in the delivery. Furthermore, the tent can also be used as an bivy bag or tarp. It is lightweight and can be stowed away to save space. A pack sack is also included in the delivery.

- reflective surface to prevent hypothermia
