A light weight camouflage net that works well with your carrier and that reduces your visual and to some extent your thermal signature. Can be used as a jacket or as a camouflage netting. When you move you carry it as a jacket and then when you go static you can use it as a camouflage netting.

- The garnish (leaf like patches) are sewn so they should not get stuck in the vegetation when you move with the cloak on you.
- On the edge of the cloak, loops are sewn flat to minimize risk that they catch in branches.
- The back of the cloak is printed in a dessert/mountain colurs.
- The volume is only 2 liters when packed.
- The cloak is made in a flame-retardant polyester mesh that doesn't suck up water so it doesn't get heavier in the rain.
