Description

The tactical wrist coach is used to hold small maps, sketches, notes, photos or other similar admin stuff readily available. It's made to fit around your forearm for easy access to the three clearview windows. There is a stiff plastic writing board for rain proof writing on top of the clear windows. Rub the board with your finger when you want to write new notes with your pencil. The memo board is attached with 2 elastic straps around your forearm. The window/board part can be removed from the wrist holder and be attached directly on our jackets.
